Re: Regional Preceptor Workshops

The CSEMS Council Regional Preceptor program primarily provides standardized preception of ALS students attending initial certification courses. Students are required to complete a field internship program prior state testing. During the field internship, students administer emergency medical care under the direct supervision of a regional preceptor. Only providers who have completed regional preceptor training are authorized to function as a preceptor for ALS students. During the field internship, regional preceptors complete documentation evaluating the student's performance. Preceptors also award points for skills performed by the student.
